Baltimore Busy With Celebration the Past Week.

LIVELY IN THE COUNTIES

Only Two Weeks Left for the Campaign Work.

DEMOCRATS APPREHENSIVE

Lack of Leadership Apparent—Disensions Numerous—The Montgomery County Outlook.

Special Correspondence of The Star.

BALTIMORE, Md., October 19, 1907. Baltimore has had a rest from politics this week, though it has been busy with a home-coming celebration. By agreement between the chairman of the republican and democratic city executive committees all political meetings were suspended for the week. The campaign was vigorously pushed, however, by both parties in the counties.

On Monday the fight will be renewed with great vigor all along the line. Only two weeks remain in which a great deal of work must be done. The battle will be won during these two weeks. At the outset of the round-up of the campaign the chances are about even. Democratic discontent and dissensions in both city and counties ought to work to the advantage of the republicans.

Not to Leaders' Liking. When democrats fully cognizant of the political situation in Maryland and not blinded by recent reports of a victory, the claims of the party leaders look over the field and try to forecast results on election day, they do not find things altogether to their liking. Here are some things which make them apprehensive.

A decrease in registration and democratic party affiliation in this city. The party managers claim that they have surpassed the republicans in registration in the counties, but they furnish no figures and the data upon which to base an unbiased opinion are not obtainable. Lack of enthusiasm in the campaign. The leaders say, of course, that their meetings are well attended, and in some cases they are, but there have not been many such cases. In fact, the campaign has been held in this city, and only one more will be held. The illness of Judge Crothers, candidate for governor, has been a drawback. He is really an energetic speaker, and had he been permitted to continue on the stump he would have injected into the campaign an enthusiasm and snap which are woefully wanting. It was up to former Gov. Frank Brown to wake up the party in this city, but it is still slumbering peacefully.

No Concentrated Leadership. A lack of concentrated leadership is plainly apparent and is playing havoc with the campaign managers and with the rank and file. No leaders have been developed to take the places so long filled by Mr. Gorman and Mr. Rasin. Former Gov. John Walter Smith is the most capable of the men who are directing the democratic party, but he has not been at the front long enough to develop an organization that will respect his advice as implicitly as Mr. Gorman's advice was respected by his party lieutenants. Here in the city Mr. John J. Mahon has done the best he could with the handicap of former Gov. Frank Brown, who has not worked well in harness with him. In fact, his excellency has often pulled in the opposite direction.

The lack of concentrated leadership in the state and in the city is seen in the numerous dissensions. In the city these dissensions crop out in every ward. In some cases they are due to disapproval at Mayor Mahon's appointments, which have a strong civil service flavor. In other cases, and there are many such cases, they are due to disagreement in the treatment accorded Gov. Warfield by the party organization. The Warfield sentiment is strong in both city and state, and in the city it is strong in the ward. The position is scattered, it is true, but in the aggregate it is a powerful factor.

Montgomery's Two Factions. Montgomery also has two well-defined factions, one headed by that veteran of veterans, Col. Spencer C. Jones, and the other by the Peter-Leo combination. The feeling between them is bitter and will be heard from on election day. Gov. Warfield is very strong in the county. He will be supported by the Peter-Leo forces. The Jones forces will line up behind ex-Gov. Smith.

Prince George's county democrats are divided against themselves. The defeat of Dr. Hill by Senator Claggett for renomination for the house of delegates is still remembered and is remembered in the election day. The only hope of the democrats in carrying the county is based on a completed ballot. They will be disappointed in this, for the county is a republican stronghold and anti-organization democrats are being well trained to mark the ballot. There was opposition to the leadership of former Representative Joshua W. Miles in Somerset, and it is still there, but its effort to manifest itself died a natural death in the county. The operation of the intricate ballot. The illiterate colored voter is developing into a profound scholar in picking out the names of republican candidates on the puzzling ballot.

Democrats Handicapped.

In all the counties and in the city the democrats are handicapped by a lack of funds. In former campaigns the late Senator Gorman came to their relief, while Mr. Rasin stood ready to contribute his share. This year there is a woeful lack of funds. Urgent appeals have been addressed to democratic officeholders and democratic business men to come to the relief of the campaign treasury. The democratic side of the county will put up to pay the expense of their farcical fight for the whole state, independent of what the senatorial aspirants will spend in their own behalf. In some counties the cost of the primary has been estimated at $50 per election district. This senatorial primary promises to be a new way to pay democratic campaign debts. The fight for the United States senatorship is developing into a bitter one. It is now being fought by the late Senator Gorman, who is now in the city, and by former Gov. John Walter Smith. The organization is almost solid in its support of the ex-governor, although Gov. Warfield will receive a considerable number of votes. He hopes to secure a plurality of the democratic vote cast at the primary, and backed by this vote, he will carry his fight to the legislature.

CHICAGO GREEKS INDICTED.

Charged With Improper Treatment of Boys Brought to America.

CHICAGO, October 19.—The federal grand jury today returned indictments against eight Greeks charging them with violating the immigration laws. It is charged that they have been acting as "padrones" and have been making false affidavits to the immigration inspectors. It is asserted that the indicted men have housed boys brought into this country in insanitary places, in order to decrease the expense of their keeping. The consequence has been, it is said, that a large percentage of the Greek boys brought here in violation of the immigration law become consumptives and are then turned out by the "padrones" to be public charges.

Provision Made in Estimates Submitted to Congress.

PAVING THOROUGHFARES

Visits of Inspection Made Before Final Decision.

ITEMS IN DISTRICT BUDGET

County to Be Given Liberal Attention if Congress Pleases to Provide the Funds.

In their annual estimates to be submitted to Congress for the next fiscal year the Commissioners made generous provision for improvements of streets, avenues and county roads. In selecting the list to be submitted the Commissioners gave careful thought to the interests of every section of the District and personally visited nearly every street in the city, making the notes that have been called to their attention.

The schedule prepared by them for work on streets and avenues, showing the section, the name of the street, the proposed improvement and the estimated cost of the same, follows:

Northwest section—D street between 13th and 14th streets, pave, forty feet wide, to cost $7,500; 13 1/2 street between D and Pennsylvania avenue, pave, thirty-five feet wide, $7,500; B street between 10th and 11th streets, pave, forty feet wide, $7,500;
